THRC is dedicated to helping industry leaders and HR professionals ensure their organizations stay in compliance and able to meet current and future labour market challenges.

“We know how critical it is to keep up with regulatory requirements and stay abreast of workforce trends — but that is a real challenge in our sector’s competitive, fast-paced, deadline driven environment,” says Craig Faucette, Chief Programs Officer, Trucking HR Canada. “That’s why Trucking HR Canada is always adding new items to our educational and resource offerings — most of them free to access and featuring downloadable tools.

“We’re also excited to announce many webinar sessions are now delivered simultaneously in English and French so even more people can participate in a timely manner,” Faucette said.

Webinar participants will leave each session with new insights and tools to improve their organizations and operational capacity.
